OVERVIEW

I study talent management in organizations from an interdisciplinary perspective (human resource management, organizational behavior, and psychology). My current research includes evaluation of talent management systems in organizations, the processes and psychology of performance management, the development of leaders and high potential employees, and employee engagement and other job attitudes (especially job satisfaction). These and other research projects have been published in multiple journals, including Journal of Applied Psychology, Journal of Management, Personnel Psychology, Organizational Behavior and Human Decision Processes, Research in Personnel and Human Resources Management, and Advances in Industrial and Labor Relations. I have taught courses related to multiple topics within human resources, organizational behavior, and psychology at the undergraduate, Masters (MBA, HR and I/O Psychology), Ph.D., and Executive levels at five different universities, in both Psychology departments and Management departments within business schools, and in multiple countries. Significant honors received include Fellow of the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP) and Fellow of the Association for Psychological Science (APS), University Faculty Scholar at Purdue University, Mays Research Fellow and the Association of Former Students Distinguished Teaching Award at Texas A&M University, and Dean's Professor in the Ivy College of Business at Iowa State. I have also served as Associate Editor at Journal of Applied Psychology and Journal of Management. In 2014 I was elected to the five-year leadership track for the Human Resources Division of the Academy of Management and served as Chair of the Division for 2017-2018.
