POLICY & PROCEDURES

The pedagogical intent of the Entrepreneurship Independent Study DSN S 490 is to provide an experiential learning activity for entrepreneurship minor students, supported by a faculty member from the student’s home college, the College of Design.

1. The independent study must include a significant experiential learning activity (e.g., starting a business, writing a business plan for a business concept, an internship or co-op that incorporates entrepreneurial processes, participation in an accelerator program, etc.), and include some of the entrepreneurial processes as described below:
   a. Opportunity Recognition: the capacity to perceive changed conditions or overlooked possibilities in the environment that represent potential sources of profit or return to a venture
   b. Opportunity Assessment: the ability to evaluate the content structure of opportunities to accurately determine their relative attractiveness
   c. Conveying a Compelling Vision: the ability to conceive an image of a future organizational state and to articulate that image in a manner that empowers followers to enact it
   d. Creative Problem Solving/Imaginativeness: the ability to relate previously unrelated objects or variables to produce novel and appropriate or useful outcomes
   e. Risk Management/Mitigation: taking actions that reduce the probability of a risk occurring or reduce the potential impact if the risk were to occur
   f. Resourcefulness: the capacity to take advantage of one’s environment and available resources (even resources one does not necessarily own or control) to accomplish personal ends
   g. Maintain focus yet adapt: ability to balance an emphasis on goal achievement and the strategic direction of the organization while addressing the need to identify and pursue actions to improve the fit between an organization and developments in the external environment
   h. Value Creation: capabilities of developing new products, services, and/or business models that generate revenues exceeding their costs and produce sufficient user benefits to bring about a fair return
   i. Building and Using Networks: social interaction skills that enable an individual to establish, develop, and maintain sets of relationships with others who assist them in advancing their work or career
   j. Fortitude: internal resources such as tenacity/perseverance/grit, resilience, and self-efficacy that allow an individual to sustain goal-directed effort despite hurdles and adversity.

2. The DSN S 490 is used towards completion of the entrepreneurship minor.

3. All tenure/tenure track faculty in the College are authorized as DSN S 490 faculty project advisors. In addition, other faculty members may serve at the discretion of the undergraduate associate dean. It is up to the faculty member to agree to or to decline to serve as a faculty advisor.
4. Students must complete the Entrepreneurship Independent Study Agreement (attached) and return the signed copy to Michele Rasmussen, College of Design 297 Student Services Office. The office will make and distribute duplicate copies of the agreement. Students may then register for the course with an add slip. It is expected that you register for the course the term the independent study is completed.

Employment and internships do not constitute, in and of themselves, a sufficient basis for 490 credit. The internship must be experiential in nature and incorporate entrepreneurial processes to earn credit towards the entrepreneurship minor.
